Shane Hannon concentrates his practice on a wide range of government contracts matters.

Shane has notable experience with bid protests, particularly as a law clerk at the U.S. Court of Federal Claims. Shane also has extensive knowledge of intellectual property issues and has litigated patent infringement cases in federal district court and at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Prior to joining Blank Rome, Shane served as a law clerk to the Honorable Eleni M. Roumel of the U.S. Court of Federal Claims and as an associate at a global law firm. Before law school, Shane worked as an engineer for a Mid-Atlantic construction company.

Outside The Firm

Shane enjoys spending time with his wife and two boys, playing tennis, and learning about history, be it through books, podcasts, or anything in between.
