Sonia Kaur Bain is a transactional commercial real estate lawyer who represents developers, retail companies, hotel groups, landlords and tenants, and family offices with the acquisitions, dispositions, development, ground and space leases, financing, and leasing of numerous types of commercial real estate assets, including mixed-use, residential, retail, hotel, and industrial properties in New York City as well as across the country.

Clients engage Sonia for her significant legal talent, but they value her for her thoughtful guidance, counsel, and partnership. In addition to her strategic legal and business advice, Sonia is frequently sought-after as a speaker, moderator, and panelist on topics relating to the real estate industry. She is also passionate about team building and mentorship, and is notably active in mentoring women entering their careers in the real estate industry.

Outside The Firm

As a mom of two boys, Sonia and her husband, Chris, can be seen on the sidelines of their son Janak's baseball, basketball, and football games, or listening to their son Caleb's concert piano recitals. Sonia herself enjoys participating in outdoor activities and sports like golf, tennis, and paddle tennis. She is a longtime NY Mets and NY Knicks fan, and a recent Brooklyn Nets fan!

Select Engagements

- Represented a leading real estate development and investment company based in Singapore in connection with $1.3 billion dollar acquisition of a portfolio of data centers assets across 18 jurisdictions in the United States.
